

RESULTS, RESULTS, RESULTS!

When my wife and I decided to move, we considered selling our house ourselves or using a help-you-sell service. Then, by chance, my wife met Anna Johnston who is half of the phenomenal Joe Johnston Remax real-estate team. The results of that chance meeting were astounding; we never would have imagined what it would mean for us!

Joe was very honest and sincere throughout the entire process. He didn't leave anything to the imagination. He quite simply came in and said:

"here's what you have to do to sell your house"

"here's what you can expect to get for your house"

"here's what the competition has to offer"

"here are my fees"

"here are the lengths that I will go to in order to sell your house which includes:

- being actively involved in all aspects of the deal from the open house to answering potential buyers' questions
- keeping you informed of all activity around your house; no matter how small
- skillful use of the internet and LOTS of photos to attract potential buyers
- continuing to provide top-notch real-estate services until you are satisfied"

And the beauty of it is that he met or exceeded everything that he claimed he would, WITHOUT EXCEPTION!

No-nonsense, friendly, professional, honest, and persistent real-estate agents who GET RESULTS! are hard to come by. That is why we have highly recommended Joe Johnston at Remax Realty to our family and friends and would continue to do so for anyone who has real-estate needs.

Sincerely,

Chris Hassan
